It will be seen from the records that unnecessary correspondence has taken place between the Taluk & Dist officer in the matter. If the question had been referred to Govt for orders then alone, and sanction the endowment might have been accepted long back.

The endowment may be accepted now under the Charitable Endowments Rules, but before it is accepted as such it would be to the advantage of the donor, if the amount is invested in the 6½% loan, and the Loan Bonds described under accepted in lieu of cash. If so will, if approved, be ascertained from the Mysore Bank whether any Loan Bonds are available at par.

No case has been made out for taking the temple under Govt management. Besides, the income from the endowment is so meagre that it will not suffice for the upkeep of the temple & Govt have generally not been in favour of adding to the responsibility of the Taluk officers.

2. It is seen from the record that arrangements have been made for the regular service in the temple and for the maintenance of the building in order. The donor has given a statement before the Amildar that he consents to accept any rate of interest that Government would, from time to time, sanction and that the expenditure may be limited to that amount of I

As the individual deposited the amount, so far back as 4th August 1910, and he is pressing for payment of interest and, I request that you will be so good as to obtain the sanction sanction of Government for accepting, under the charitable endowment rules, the deposit which has already been credited under the orders of the Amildar, on his own authority and also for taking the temple, under Government management.

4. As the Comptroller is sending in pressing reminders for intimating the number and date of the orders of Government, authorising the acceptance of the deposit, early orders in the matter, are solicited.
